It is much greater to have had such a man to lose. He was the child of the people: He was the type of the people. From Mr. Robinson's Eulogy on General Grant. I would the great world grew like thee, Who grewest not alone in power And knowledge, but by year and hour In reverence and charity. Tennyson. Heart-affluence in discursive talk From household fountains never dry; The critic clearness of an eye That saw through all the Muses walk; Seraphic intellect and force To seize and throw the doubts of man; Impassioned logic, which outran The hearer in its fiery course; And manhood fused with female grace In such a sort, the child would twine A trustful hand, unasked, in thine, And find his comfort in thy face; All these have been, and thee mine eyes Have looked on: if they looked in vain, My shame is greater who remain, Nor let thy wisdom make me wise. Tennyson. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at This book is a reproduction of an important historical work.
