

Stephen Spenders the Temple as an Autobiographical Novel

By Nina Jungmann

GRIN Verlag GmbH. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 28 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.1in. Essay from the year 2011 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies - Literature, grade: 2, 0, University of Trier, language: English, abstract: In 1988 the author John Fuller had discovered a manuscript of Stephen Spenders novel which was called The Temple and was dated 1929. Spender originally wrote this novel in the late 1920s in order to tell his life during his student days. He sent several copies to friends, among them Auden and Isherwood to get their views about it, and a copy to Geoffrey Faber, his publisher, who pointed out that there could be no question of publishing a novel, which, besides being libelous, was pornographic according to the law at that time. (Spender 1988 x) Hence, Spenders work was not published and fell into oblivion. Over all those years Spender forgot that in the financial crisis he had sold his manuscripts to Texas in 1962. However, in 1988 John Fuller discovered the original manuscript and encouraged Spender to revise his work and to publish it. As he did so, in the introduction of The Temple he wrote the following: This...

READ ONLINE
[6.1 MB]

Reviews

Very beneficial for all type of folks. It can be rally intriguing throug studying time. You will like how the writer publish this ebook.

-- Nathan Cruickshank

Totally one of the better pdf I have at any time read through. It really is simplified but shocks within the 50 % from the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Mariano Spinka